Services Generally

It is almost always the case that you have been asked to see a notary because you have a document that needs to be used abroad. Seeing a notary is never simply a rubber-stamping exercise.

Authorities in foreign jurisdictions often require a Notary (as opposed to a solicitor) to verify the authenticity of a document and/or someone's identity. Some countries also require the signature of the Notary to be "legalised", by a certificate (an "apostille") of the Foreign, Commonwealth & Development Office ("FCDO") and may also require their Consulate to add their own certificate to the document.

The international duty of a Notary involves a high standard of care. This is not only towards the client but also to anyone who may rely on the document and to Governments or officials of other countries. These people are entitled to assume that a Notary will ensure full compliance with the relevant requirements both here and abroad; and to rely on the Notary's register and records. Notaries pass strict examinations. Notarisation is therefore not simply a signature, in the way that some documents can be sworn in a few minutes for a small fee in front of a solicitor or other person for use in this country. Even the simplest job takes the Notary significant background time to ensure full compliance with the relevant requirements both domestically and abroad. Great care is essential at every stage to minimise the risks of errors, omissions, alterations, fraud, forgery, money laundering, the use of false identity, and so on.

Costs – charges and expenses

In most cases I can provide a fixed fee and disbursement quotation in advance of commencing the work.

I charge notarial services as a minimum standard fee of £140.00 plus disbursements, based on the time spent on average to deal with an uncomplicated document (including my post-meeting work), but otherwise I may agree a fee according to the number and complexity of documents involved, or charge my hourly rate of £350.00. An average fee is £140.00–£200.00 plus disbursements. Presently, I do not have to charge VAT.

Some documents require legalisation before they will be accepted for use in the receiving jurisdiction by obtaining an apostille through the FCDO and, for some countries, additional legalisation is required through the relevant embassy or consulate. FCDO fees for apostilles currently range from £35 (e-Apostille) to £100 for the 'restricted urgent' service. Where a business user applies for an apostille, the charge is £40.00 per document. The time taken by the FCDO to process an apostille in the ordinary post can vary between a few days and up to two weeks, so I sometimes recommend employing an agent to obtain the apostille in person and avoid delay. The cost of this is approximately £20 (incl. VAT). There will also be the cost of the agent posting or sending the document by courier which can range between £10 and £60 depending on the service used. The fees charged by foreign consulates vary, as do the additional costs of employing an agent to deal with them. The FCDO presently charge £5 for postage within the UK.

Where I am asked to travel to meet you, I may charge the cost of public transport, taxi or mileage at the rate of 45p per mile as notified and agreed in advance.

Unless I agree otherwise in advance, payment of the fee and disbursements is due when the document has been prepared which may be retained pending payment in full. This can be by cash, cheque (payable to "Malcolm Gregory Notary Public"), debit or credit card (in person) or by bank transfer.

Occasionally unforeseen or unusual issues arise during the course of the matter which may result in a revision of my fee estimate. Examples of this could include where additional documents are required to be notarised, translations or additional legalisations are needed to meet the requirements of the receiving jurisdiction, third party fees are adjusted to reflect external factors such as fuel price changes and so on. I will notify you of any changes in the fee estimate as soon as possible.

Typical stages of a notarial transaction

Each notarial matter is different and the requirements and timescales will vary greatly according to whether the client is a private individual or a company and in particular according to the processing times of third parties such as the FCDO, legalisation agents, translating agencies and couriers, etc. Some of the typical key stages are likely to include:

- Receiving and reviewing the documents to be notarised together with any instructions you may have received
- Liaising with your legal advisors or other bodies to obtain the necessary documentation to deal with the document (e.g. information from Companies House or foreign registries, powers of attorney etc)
- Checking the identity, capacity and authority of the person who is to sign the document
- If a document is to be certified, checking with the issuing authorities that the document/award is genuine. In the case of academic awards, this would entail checking with the appropriate academic institutions.
- Meeting with the signatory to verify their identity and to ascertain that they understand what they are signing and that they are doing so of their own free will and ensuring that the document is executed correctly
- Drafting and affixing or endorsing a notarial certificate to the document
- Arranging for the legalisation of the document as appropriate
- Arranging for the storage of copies of all notarised documents in accordance with the requirements of the Notarial Practice Rules 2019

Preparing to see me

You will be expected to make an appointment. Normal hours of business are 9.00am to 5.30pm Monday to Friday. Appointments outside of this time may be accommodated by special arrangement. Typically, appointments last between 30 minutes and 50 minutes.

Occasionally I may not be able to see you within the timeframe you require, or I may decide that I am not able to act for you in which case I will advise you that this is the case and will provide you with the necessary information to locate an alternative notary.

Malcolm Gregory - Notary Public

Services and Terms of Business

I have an office at 3 Newbridge Square, Swindon. I am also a solicitor with RWK Goodman LLP and conducts the notarial business from its offices in Bath, Oxford and London. I can arrange meetings elsewhere, although the charge will reflect the time spent.

If you are asking me to certify a copy of a document, I must see the original. If you require me to certify the authenticity of a document's contents (e.g. academic certificates awarded) I may have to spend additional time doing that. Otherwise, I can only certify that the copy I make is a copy of a document produced to me (and said to be an original).

When you meet me you will need to provide me with the information shown below, as well as identification and proof of residence, as I must keep copies with my records.

Your details:

- Full names and address of appearer.
- Contact telephone number and e-mail address.
- Nature of your requirements.
- Whether apostille or other legalisation actions are required.

Signatures

I will normally have to witness your signature. Please do not sign the document in advance of your appointment with me.

Papers to be sent to me in advance:

It will save time, expense and mistakes if, as long as before the appointment as possible, you can let me have the originals or photocopies of:

- The documents to be notarised.
- Any letter or other form of instruction which you have received about what has to be done with the documents.
- Your evidence of identification.

Identification:

I will need you to produce by way of formal identification the original of one of the following:

- Full National Passport (or if not available), a current driving licence (with photo) or a national identity card.

AND one of:

- Gas, electricity, telephone bill, mortgage statement, council tax demand, bank/building society/credit card statement (issued within the last three months), young person's medical card (under 18 only)

You must also bring any other means of ID which may be referred to in the papers sent to you as being required such as a foreign Identity card. I may also ask to see further evidence of identity such as marriage certificates etc and will advise you if this is necessary.

If the documents required relate to a child I will need proof of their identity.

AND for an unquoted company or partnership:

- Companies: Certificate of Incorporation or equivalent, Certificate of Trade or equivalent, Company search, Latest report and audited accounts (I can obtain this information from Companies House in most cases.)

Malcolm Gregory - Notary Public

Services and Terms of Business

- Partnerships, clubs etc: A Partnership Agreement; or relevant Trust Deed; or Charter; or Constitution/Rules.
- In addition I would need to see:
 - Evidence of the identity of the authorised signatory (as listed above).
 - A copy of the current letterhead (showing the registered office if it is a company).
 - Evidence of your authority to sign the document (a resolution, for example, but please note that there are specific requirements where a power of attorney is involved, as it must comply with the law of England and Wales and be in the form of a deed).

I may be able (or need) to download some information from the Companies House website at additional cost.

Proof of names

In a case where the name on the document is different from the name you are currently using or there has been a variation in the form of spelling of the name over the years, please provide as appropriate Certificates of Birth, Marriage or Divorce Decree or Change of Name Deed showing all the different names that you use. If there has been a change of name, then I will need to see a copy of the Deed Poll or Statutory Declaration which dealt with it.

Advice on the document

If you bring a document to me for authorisation as a Notary, I will advise you as to the formalities required for completing it. However, I will not be attempting to advise you about the transaction itself.

Written translations

It is essential that you understand what you are signing.

If the document is in a foreign language which you do not understand sufficiently, I may have to insist that a translation is obtained. If I arrange for a translation, a further fee will be payable and I will provide you with details of this.

If you arrange for a professional translation, the translator should add his/her name, address, relevant qualification, and a certificate stating: "Document X is a true and complete translation of document Y, to which this translation is attached."

Oral interpreter

If I am not able to understand each other because of a language difficulty, I may have to make arrangements for a competent interpreter to be available at the interview and this may involve a further fee.

I may also, during the course of a matter, send unencrypted sensitive or confidential information to other persons involved, unless specifically requested by them or you not to do so. All e-mails and attachments I send should be scanned for viruses by the recipient.

Money laundering compliance

I operate a money-laundering reporting procedure as required by law where, in the event of any suspicion as to money laundering, information will be revealed to the appropriate authorities. Cash payments will not be accepted over £500 in value. You will be required to provide satisfactory proof of identity and full details of the source and proposed destination of funds. Pending this, funds may be frozen and I will not accept any responsibility for loss or delay caused by your failure to provide such information promptly.

Termination and your right to cancel

You may terminate your instructions to me at any time by giving me reasonable written notice. All fees and disbursements incurred up to the date of termination will be charged.

Where the CCR apply (typically where you are an individual consumer and my contract with you was concluded either at or following a meeting with you or by a form of distance communication) you have a cancellation period of 14 days after the date you sign my retainer letter or the date on which you continue to give me instructions, whichever is earlier (the “Cancellation Period”).

Malcolm Gregory - Notary Public

Services and Terms of Business

You can cancel your contract within the Cancellation Period by giving me a clear statement and I will reimburse all payments received from you by the same method that you used, at no cost to you, without undue delay, and not later than 14 days after the day on which you inform me of the cancellation.

If you ask me to begin work during the Cancellation Period, you can still cancel but you must pay me an amount in proportion to the work which I have performed and this proportion will not be reimbursed to you.

Termination by me

I reserve the right to terminate my engagement by you if I have good reason to do so, for example, if you do not pay a bill or comply with my request for a payment on account or you fail to give me the co-operation which I am reasonably entitled to expect.

I accept no liability for loss (including, but not limited to, damages, costs and interest) to you or other parties, whether in contract, tort (including negligence) or otherwise in relation to any matter in the absence of specific written agreement to the contrary referring to this term and signed by both parties in excess of the sum of £1,000,000 for any one claim. Specific cover for higher limits may be obtainable and agreed in certain circumstances. I am insured to the value of at least £1,000,000 through my professional indemnity insurance policy.

The amount of any liability is to be reduced so far as may be appropriate to take account of the degree of responsibility of any other professional or other advisers whom you have consulted in relation to the matter as if I had successfully claimed contribution from them under the Civil Liability (Contribution) Act 1978 taking no regard for any limitation agreed between you and such advisor, and they had the resources to meet the same, provided that I shall not be obliged to make or pursue any such claim for contribution.

No liability whatsoever will be accepted on my part in relation to any loss, damage or liability whatsoever caused directly or indirectly to any party other than the person, company or organisation for whom I have agreed to act in connection with the relevant matter. No liability whatsoever will be accepted on my part where such liability either arises from any instructions or information given by you or by any third party being incomplete, inaccurate or incorrect; or where such liability is for any indirect, economic or consequential loss or damage, costs, expenses or other claims for consequential compensation whatsoever or howsoever caused which arise out of or in connection with the services provided by me or for loss of profit, loss of business, loss of data, depletion of goodwill or loss occurring in the normal course of business or otherwise.

All company searches carried out by me are made using the Companies House on-line service. To the extent that the Registrar of Companies does not accept responsibility for any inaccuracies or omissions arising from use of the on-line service, I accept no responsibility or liability arising from reliance upon the results of such searches, if they should subsequently be found to be inaccurate or incomplete.

The notarial practice and RWK Goodman LLP are independent of each other. Some resources are shared with RWK Goodman LLP. Accordingly, any person referred by me to that solicitors practice does not have any of the protection attaching to the client of a notary but benefits only from the practice rules applicable to a solicitors practice and will be subject to RWK Goodman LLP's Terms of Business, which are available on request.
